

Figure S21 – Determination of optimal cluster threshold θ for South America during July – September 2014. Vertical axis is the sum of averaged distance $E(\theta)$ as a function of the number of clusters (blue).