

Project title: Circular and Adaptable Building Transformation: Reconceptualization, Practice Exploration, Framework Co-Development, and Implementation

Introduction

The data are organized on the basis of 3 datasets from 3 out of 4 studies (papers) from the research project. These datasets are based on empirical data collected through qualitative research methods. The data of the first study is literature material which is available online.

As shown in the table below, The three datasets are organized under three main categories, corresponding to the related study number, whereas the file name explains the content.
