

This dataset includes the data of all the calculations: DFT, MD and Raman spectroscopy.

Detailed information about the computational model employed are contained in the Supplementary information, which is available free of charge at the Nano Lett website.